The Knights Templar

Thousands of Them Parade the Streets of Washington.

REVIEWED BY THE PRESIDENT.

The Different Commanderies Make a Very Creditable Appearance—Twelve Divisions in the Parade—Proceedings of the Grand Encampment.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—The Knights Templar procession yesterday comprised twelve divisions. At the head of each division rode the commanding officer, his chief of staff, and a dozen aides-de-camp. Sir William G. Moore commanded the first division, with Sir Andrew W. Kelley, chief of staff. This was the special escort to Grand Master Roome, and was composed of the Washington, Columbia, Potomac and the DeMolay commanderies of this city, and a detachment of Court d'Leon commandery, of New York city. These commanderies preceded Grand Master Roome and his personal staff, all officers of the grand encampment and the grand encampment, all of whom rode in carriages.

The second division commanded by Sir Nicholas Van Slyke, with Sir Samuel C. Lawrence, chief of staff, was composed of twenty commanderies from Massachusetts and Rhode Island.

The third division commanded by Sir Austin C. Wood, Sir George P. Lole, chief of staff, was composed of eighteen commanderies from New York state.

In the fourth division, Sir J. L. Bek, commanding, Sir J. H. Capers, chief of staff, there marched ten Virginia and Delaware, three New Hampshire and six Connecticut commanderies and the Vermont and New Hampshire battalions.

The fifth division was composed of one Maine, twenty seven Ohio and three Kentucky commanderies, with Sir Henry Perkins commanding, Sir Martin J. Houck, chief of staff, and Sir Charles Fish assistant marshal.

In the sixth division, Sir Terrence C. Hipple commanding, Sir John J. Wadsworth chief of staff, marched twenty-eight Pennsylvania commanderies.

In the seventh division, Sir Duncan E. Bucoer commanding, Sir Henry C. Adams, chief of staff, were seventeen Indiana and twelve Michigan commanderies.

In the eighth division, Sir Norma T. Gassett commanding, Vice Grandmaster George Monlon, chief of staff, and thirty-one eminent officers as aides-de-camp, were twenty-nine Illinois commanderies.

In the ninth division, Sir Samuel Hopkin, Woener commanding, Sir Frank W. Sumner chief of staff, was composed of four California, eight Tennessee, six Wisconsin and New Jersey commanderies.

The tenth division embraced nine Georgia, six Missouri commanderies and fifty knights from several commanderies in Mississippi and Louisiana. Sir A. G. Howard commanded this division, with Sir Charles D. Watson chief of staff.

The eleventh division Sir Walter H. Surber commanding, Sir Clarence A. Hubbard chief of staff, was composed of four Minnesota, four Kansas, eight Maryland, nine Nebraska, one Colorado, six West Virginia commanderies, and the Arkansas and North Carolina battalions.

The twelfth and last division was commanded by Sir W. D. Stiles, with Sir William G. Bell, chief of staff. In this division there marched the first Wyoming, fifth Dakota and second Montana commanderies and the Albert Edward preceptory of Winnipeg, Man., Geoffrey de St. Aldeman preceptory of Toronto and Geoffrey de Bouillon preceptory of Hamilton, Canada.

The boy Knights Templar from Louisville were presented to the president at the White House in the morning. They wore the full dress uniform of the commandery and made a very soldierly appearance as they marched into the east room. They were accompanied by Mr. Justice Harlan and were formally presented by him by a short address.

Reviewed by the President.

A large number of distinguished persons were on the grand stand erected in front of the president's mansion, and facing the line of march of the Knights Templar parade. The stand was gallily decorated with red, white and blue bunting. The presidential party were notified of the approach of the procession at 12:20, and they formed in procession and walked to the stand. Dr. Scott and Mrs. Scott led the party, which consisted of the president and Secretary Windom, Mrs. Harrison, Mrs. Ralford, Secretary Noble, Secretary Rusk, Postmaster General Wamamaker, Attorney General Miller, Assistant Secretary Batchelder, Walker, Blaine, Gen. Schofield, Miss Sander, Assistant Adj. Gen. Vincent and a number of Indian friends. The party were seated in the center of the stand, and spent the few minutes before the arrival of the head of the procession in nodding to acquaintances. Secretary Blaine made his appearance when a part of the first division had passed.

When eminent Sir Myron M. Parkes, the grand marshal of the parade, and his staff of forty-five aids, appeared in sight, the president took a position in the center of the platform. He was dressed in a black frock coat, dark trousers, a silk hat and yellow kid gloves. His dark overcoat was worn open. The officers of the grand encampment were in carriages, and preceded by the first division, were the first to pass the president. The occupants of the carriages saluted the president by raising their hats as they passed, and these salutations were gracefully returned by the president.

Those on the reviewing stand commented quite freely on the appearance of the passing commanderies. The excellent marching and brilliant regalia of some of them brought forth expressions of praise. A ripple of laughter was caused by a drummer and fife, who, constituting a band in its entirety, looked conspicuously lonesome as they marched at the head of a large commandery, piping and drumming for dear life.

The seventh division approached the reviewing stand with a great deal of cheering from the Indiana knights who marched in this division. DeMolay commanderies presented a fine appearance.

Apollo commanderies of Troy, won applause, and the president smiled his approbation for their excellent marching.

Grace commandery of Norfolk, Va., and St. Johns of Wilmington, Del., were also applauded. Hanselman commandery of Cincinnati, Mansfield, of Mansfield, and Holyrood, of Cleveland, marched company front.

The Maysville, Ky., commandery, well known as the "5-15-22" commandery; the DeMolay, of Louisville, the champion drill corps of the United States, and the "Little Commandery," in Masonic uniform, from the Masonic orphans' home, were noticeable for their fine appearance. DeMolay commandery brought forth round after round of applause from the president's stand. "The Old Kentucky Home" was the favorite cry of the bands in this division. The sixth division, composed entirely of twenty-eight Pennsylvania commanderies, received its share of applause from the presidential party.

It was 3:30 before the end of the twelfth and last division passed the president. He had been on his feet for three hours, the time the procession took in passing the stand, and he seemed considerably fatigued. Many persons about him had left before the parade was half finished. When the rear of the procession had gone by, the presidential party left the stand, and went to the White House where some of them had dinner.

Grand Encampment in Session.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—The grand encampment of Knights Templar began its session immediately upon arrival at Masonic Temple at the close of the parade. Mr. Myron M. Parker delivered an address of welcome on the part of the local committee, and introduced District Commissioner Douglas, who welcomed the knights in behalf of the city. To both addresses Grand Master Roome responded, and thus closed the public exercises.

The encampment then began its business in secret conclave. The Iowa trouble immediately loomed up and a resolution was offered excluding the members from that state from the session. This resolution was carried and the Iowa members some what indignantly withdrew. Gen. Roome, who, as grand master of the order, had declared the Iowa commandery and its members in rebellion, had no right to do with offering this resolution, but simply placed it before the convention. It is authoritatively stated that he took no side in the matter during the discussion of the resolution.

The annual address of Grand Master Roome, who presided over the session, was then read. His address opened with a reference to the knightly dead during the past three years. He recommended selecting Ascension Day as a day of especial commemoration and religious services by the order throughout the country. He then devoted a great deal of space to the Iowa trouble, reviewing the whole matter from beginning to end. He said the grand commandery of that state had attempted to nullify the deliberate will of the grand encampment, and though still professing loyalty to the grand encampment and the constitution, its deeds had belied its empty words. He admitted that the ritual adopted by the San Francisco conclave in 1886, has not commended itself to all state commanderies but insisted that while it was in force it was the bounden duty of knights to obey it.

Iowa did not rest with criticism; did not submit such alterations as it deemed advisable, but attempted to do away with the law of the grand encampment, and questioned the constitutionality of the legislation of the grand encampment. He maintained that the adoption of a ritual in 1886 was in aid of the prerogative of the grand master, and that the duty then immediately devolved on him of seeing that it should be used everywhere, and when the grand commander of the state of Iowa questioned the authority to order the use of the new ritual in the Iowa commandery, he felt justified in issuing an edict declaring the grand commandery of Iowa and all Sir Knights in its obedience to be in a state of disloyalty and rebellion to the constitution and grand encampment of the United States.

He declared that he had no ill feeling for his erring Iowa brethren, and what he had done had been intended solely to promote the dignity of the order. Further than this he wished it to be distinctly understood as in no way taking up the cause of the rituals as adopted. In concluding he recommended great gentleness in dealing with this unfortunate situation of affairs. The whole matter of the ritual he trusted, would be definitely disposed of at this conclave, and in the final decision he hoped all would agree, and if Iowa was satisfied all occasion for disagreement would be removed.

Soon after the reading of Gen. Roome's address the conclave adjourned.

New York, Oct. 9.—A farewell reception was tendered yesterday by prominent New York Presbyterians to twelve Presbyterian missionaries who sail for Bombay in charge of Rev. C. B. Newton, D.D.

Effects of the Storm.

Great Damage Done in England and Ireland.

SEVERAL LIVES REPORTED LOST

The Full Extent of the Disaster Not Known on Account of Telegraph Wires Being Down and All Communication Cut Off—Other Foreign News.

LONDON, Oct. 9.—The storm which swept over England and Ireland Monday, though doing serious damage everywhere appears to have spent its fury in the northern portions. Reports of casualties resulting from the high wind which prevailed all day, come in hourly, and the aggregate loss of property will be enormous. Several lives were lost by contact with flying timbers and debris of demolished houses, but the telegraph wires are everywhere so crippled by the storm that accurate figures cannot yet be given.

In almost every county in England and in Ireland houses were blown down by the force of the gale and many cases are reported in which the occupants remained for hours buried in the ruins until rescued from their perilous positions by their more fortunate neighbors. In most of these cases serious injuries were sustained by those dragged from the ruins and in some death has resulted.

In the city of Bradford a large warehouse was blown down, and the heavy brick walls in their fall crushed in four houses adjoining. The occupants were buried all night under tons of tangled debris, and it was not till late yesterday afternoon that the hundreds of men who had been set to work at once to rescue them managed to drag them from under the ruins of their houses. Many of the victims are frightfully maimed and several cannot recover.

Result of the French Election.

PARIS, Oct. 9.—Of the new chamber of deputies 286 belonged to the last chamber. The remainder consists of forty-three members of former chambers and 234 new men. The gaites both of Boulangists and Moderates, have been at the expense of the Radicals, who have lost fifty seats. The Moderates are in danger of being outvoted by a coalition unless they secure the support of thirty members of the right, or thirty Radicals.

Pointer of Peace.

BERLIN, Oct. 9.—The Berlin Tageblatt finds a significant augury for peace in the recent action of the Russian military officials in adopting small bore rifles for the use of the army. The Tageblatt points out that the change cannot be effected in less than two or three years, and the project is best possible proof which Russia could furnish of her peaceful intentions.

Ocean Current Discovered.

BREMEN, Oct. 9.—Drs. Kukenthal and Walter have just returned from an exploring expedition in the Spitzbergen Archipelago. They report the discovery of an important ocean current flowing from north to south the whole length of Olga strait.

DEATHS FROM ELECTRICITY.

Too Many Have Occurred Recently in the City of New York.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—Charles Edmond, an employe of the Manhattan Electric Light company, while repairing wires in front of No. 155 Grand street, yesterday, fell to the pavement, crushing his skull and breaking his neck. It is supposed that he received a shock, causing him to relax his hold and fall, but the exact cause of the accident is not yet determined. Two men who were working with Edmond refuse to say a word about the matter. Edmond was 40 years old, and leaves a widow and child. He had the reputation of being a careful workman.

It is learned that while Edmond was handling the wires, his back came in contact with a wire and the shock made him helpless. He fell among the wires, and a fellow workman seized and attempted to hold him, but was unable to do so. Whether or not the shock would have been fatal but for the fall, cannot be determined.

Mayor Grant has notified all the electric light companies in the city that he will at once call the attention of the board of electrical control to the numerous deaths recently caused by electric light wires, and will urge the adoption of preventive measures. The companies are invited to send representatives and make any suggestions they see fit.

A Bookkeeper Skips Out.

CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—Last Saturday A. B. Peck, confidential bookkeeper of the Chicago office of P. Lorillard & Company, tobacco manufacturers, cashed checks for over $1,000 which had been left to make up remittances to traveling men for expenses, and taking the money, left the city. It was learned yesterday afternoon that Peck had been at Allegan, Mich., where his father resides, on Monday, but had left that place the same day for parts unknown. Just what the total taken is cannot be known until an expert straightens out Peck's accounts, which are in a badly muddled condition.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—The cruiser

Petrel at Baltimore was accepted by the secretary of the navy yesterday. Her penalties for failure to make the required horse power may be lessened by the secretary should he sustain the appeal of the contractors—the Union Iron works, of Baltimore—for strain on the engines while waiting for the tardy trial board to appear.

M. EIFFEL INTERVIEWED

On the Feasibility of Constructing a High Tower at the World's Fair.

LONDON, Oct. 9.—A well known London engineer, who was one of the 250 members of the Iron and Steel institute who were interviewed in Paris last week by M. Eiffel and the president of the French Society of Engineers, gives an interesting account of a conversation he had with M. Eiffel, in which that gentleman gave his opinion of the feasibility of constructing a tower on the plan of the Eiffel tower in Paris, of such dimensions as are proposed for the tower to be constructed on the site of the New York world's exposition of 1892.

In this conversation Mr. Eiffel expressed his unbounded confidence that the plan of the Paris structure with some slight modifications which experienced had suggested to him could be safely adopted for a tower twice its height, and that with this plan a tower of any altitude desired presented no engineering difficulties whatever, but was simply a question of outlay. If the American exposition committee were ambitious to possess a tower 1,500 or 2,000 feet high they had simply to present the funds, and the structure would spring from the ground in nine months after the order was given.

Of course great care would have to be exercised in the selection of a suitable site, as upon this would very largely depend the stability of the structure. When questioned as to whether he would have any professional connection with the construction of the proposed American tower, Mr. Eiffel said it was too early yet to reach any definite understanding, and he was already in communication on the subject with New York parties.

TWO GREAT UNDERTAKINGS.

The Tehuantepec Ship Railway and the Panama Canal.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 9.—Col. James Andrews, president of the Tehuantepec ship railway, in an interview, says it is his belief that an impetus will be given to the Tehuantepec ship railway enterprise by the convocation of the International American conference. That subject, together with other trans-continental enterprises—the Nicaragua and Panama scheme—will be brought to their attention while on their tour of this country, probably while in this city.

"The Panama canal project is not dead by any means," said Mr. Andrews. When in Paris this summer I paid a visit to M. Brunot, the receiver of the bankrupt company. He has, after paying all the debts, about 14,000,000 francs left in the treasury. He has decided to send out a commission of engineers to Panama during the coming winter. They will make as accurate a survey as possible of the amount of money necessary to finish the canal. This, Mr. Brunot informed me, will be the first reliable survey since the work was commenced."

CHINATOWN SURPRISED

Over a Publicly Called Meeting of the League of Heaven and Earth.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 9.—Posters are distributed throughout Chinatown calling for a meeting of the League of Heaven and Earth. The existence of this league was only known to its members, and the issue of the call for the meeting caused much surprise among the residents of Chinatown. The league is said to be a powerful one. It was originally formed in China to secure the overthrow of the Tartar dynasty, and has been proscribed in that country since the Taiping rebellion. The objects of this league, like the High-binders' societies, are blackmail and vengeance. Its victims are completely removed, no trace of them being left to serve as a clue. Within the last six months half a dozen Chinamen have mysteriously disappeared, and it is believed their removal was ordered by the league. Not the slightest clue to their whereabouts has been discovered.

Almost a Trust.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., Oct. 9.—Yesterday representative of all of the western pottery manufacturers, except Bell Brothers, of Findlay, O., met in this city and gave a bond of $1,200 that hereafter rates will be maintained. The association formed is not a trust as yet, but will probably develop into one. A classification and rates of discount to the trade were also established. One of the first things to be demanded of the association will be the arrangement of a wage scale.

Eight Jurymen Secured.

CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—Four more jurors were secured in the Cronin case yesterday, making eight jurors now sworn in. Messrs. Allen and Walker, who had been in the box a number of days were joined by George L. Corke and William North. Nineteen veniremen were examined, fourteen excused for cause, one challenged preemptorily by the defense one by the state and three passed by the state, and under consideration by the defense when the court adjourned.

Using the Mails for a Lottery Scheme.

DENVER, Col., Oct. 9.—A C. Johnson and J. H. Boyd, who have been sending out lottery circulars under the style of A. C. Ross & Company, and the Denver State Lottery company, alleging that various large and small prizes would be drawn Oct. 15, were arrested yesterday for illegal use of the mails.

Killed by a Cave-in.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Oct. 9.—In the Hanover mine a cave-in occurred yesterday, burying Charles Smith under one hundred tons of coal. His body has not yet been recovered.

A Small Failure.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Oct. 9.—The novelty store of B. H. Richers has been seized by the sheriff. Richers' liabilities are $8,000; assets, $4,000.

THE EVENING BULLETIN

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.
ROSSER & MCCARTHY,
Proprietors.

WEDNESDAY, OCT. 9, 1889.

Ohio Republicans ought to know that the insanity dodge is worn out.

THE Democrats didn't expect much from the four new States at the late election, and they didn't get much—only one Governor and two U. S. Senators. The Republicans secure three Governors, five Representatives and six Senators.

ENCOURAGING reports come from the campaign in New York. The Democrats have a strong ticket and they are making a strong fight. The Troy Press says their candidates have been either invariably successful in former appeals to the ballot box, or have run largely ahead of their party ticket.

THAT Topp exposure at Cincinnati hasn't proved a boomerang to the Democrats yet. The Republicans asserted it would when the letter was read, and they talked a good deal about Topp's insanity, and all that, but each day adds to their discomfiture. Governor Foraker's investigating committee don't seem to know what they are to inquire into—Topp's alleged insanity or his raceability. Look at the matter in any light and Mr. Topp is not a fit man to have in the prominent positions the Republicans of Cincinnati and Foraker placed him.

Just about one year ago Mr. Blaine, now Secretary of State, was running 'round over the country making red-hot "protection" speeches to the multitudes. A few days since he addressed the Pan-American Congress at Washington City, during which he said: "It will be a great gain when we shall acquire that common confidence on which all international friendship must rest. It will be a greater gain when we shall be able to draw the people of all American nations into closer acquaintance with each other—an end to be facilitated by more frequent and more rapid inter-communication. It will be the greatest gain when the personal and commercial relations of the American States, South and North, shall be so developed and so regulated that each shall acquire the highest possible advantage from the enlightened and enlarged intercourse of all."

He may be a "protectionist" yet, but how can he hope for any closer commercial relations between this country and the States of Central and South America under the present restrictive high tariff? Subsidizing a line of steamships, we fear, would not go far towards enlarging the intercourse between these countries, but that's the scheme of the Republicans. That some wise action should be taken to develop closer commercial relations with the countries South of us, is evidenced by the fact that at present they get only 11 per cent. of their imports from the U. S., the other 89 per cent. coming from Europe.

FACTS FOR FARMERS.

Weekly Report of Kentucky State Weather Service.

About one-half the cattle now received at Chicago are from Texas and the western ranges, with a preponderance of Texans.

In 1888 the cattle in Pueblo County, Col., numbered 48,445, while this year they number only 15,546. There were also 3,062 more sheep last year than this.

"The weekly crop bulletins of the Kentucky State Weather Service, in co-operation with the United States Signal Service, are proving of great benefit to farmers and others throughout the State, and to tobacco men particularly," says the Courier-Journal. "In addition to these reports, 'frost warnings' are sent to every tobacco-growing county in the State and distributed by telephones and signals throughout the section. Flags are hoisted in response to the warnings by many who have constituted themselves weather service agents, and the farmers are thus enabled hours ahead of the rain or frost to prepare for it and house their crops if necessary. The tobacco warehousemen and produce dealers of Louisville have contributed a sum sufficient to defray the expenses of flags for the display of these warnings, and one will be sent to each person who will agree to hoist it and otherwise make known the news on receipt of the telegram. The form of the flag adopted is the ordinary cold wave flag—white with black square in the center." The report for the week ending Saturday, October 5, is as follows: "The weather of the past week has been decidedly favorable to crops which are still in the field. Very little tobacco remains uncut, and the present week will see it all housed. The damage from the early frosts was slight. Corn is being cut rapidly and is one of the best crops ever raised in the State. Fall seeding is progressing favorably and will probably be completed during the present week."

She left most of her fortune to relatives.

The very latest in the way of novel entertainments, is an "eye party." One was given recently in a neighboring city, and the following is a description of the entertainment: "Paste or pin several newspapers together, and cut a number of holes in them about eighteen inches apart and each a little larger than the human eye. Then fasten this paper around three sides of a clothes horse. Some of the party go inside and look through the paper, placing their faces close to it. The rest remain outside and try to decide the owner of each of the various eyes beaming upon them. Strange to say, however familiar eyes all the players may be, they will find this a very difficult task. The game is well worth the very slight preparation required. The gentleman correctly guessing a lady's eyes, of course, escorts her to supper."

THE SIR KNIGHTS.

What the Washington City Star Has to Say of Maysville Commandery No. 10.

The Star, of Washington City, in its issue Monday, says: "Maysville Commandery No. 10, of Maysville, Ky., arrived early this morning with a fine looking cohort of well-uniformed men. This Commandery was chartered in 1865. It has always had a representation at every grand convocation of the State, and at every triennial since 1865, except that at San Francisco. At Cleveland, O., in 1877, owing to a number of disappointments, the delegation was reduced to five, yet these Sir Knights, with a brass band of fifteen pieces and, it is said, twenty-two gallons of old Bourbon, maintained the honor and spread wide the reputation of No. 10 for hospitality, since which time it has been known everywhere as the 5-15-22 Commandery. A blue silk badge commemorates the event. A shield and cross-swords, with the 5 in the center, represents the Knights, a buzze and the figure 15 the musicians, and the number 22 on a handsome wicker demijohn speaks for itself. This is printed in gold with a sheaf of wheat entwining, and the words, 'Cleveland, 1877; Chicago, 1880; St. Louis, 1883; Washington, D. C. 1889; Old Kentuck.' No more unique design or badge more sought for exchange will be seen at this grand encampment.

"On February 22, 1887, the beautiful Masonic Temple at Maysville was dedicated under the auspices of the Commandery, upon which occasion Eminent Sir J. Proctor Knott, then Governor of Kentucky, made the dedicatory speech, and the Masonic ceremonies were conducted by V. E. W. LaRue Thomas, Grand Captain General, Grand Encampment, U. S. A., assisted by the officers of the Grand Commandery of Kentucky. This temple is the pride of every Mason's heart in that region of country, and no Commandery has a better suite of apartments. On July 25th last, this Commandery conferred the Illustrious Order of Red Cross on a class of twenty-four. The membership is 175. The Commandery is ever alive to the call of charity.

"Very Eminent Sir LaRue Thomas being now a resident of Maysville, the Commandery tendered its services as his escort on the pilgrimage to Washington. They are quartered at the Arlington, with sixty swords and ladies, and Hauke's brass band of sixteen pieces, where, it is needless to say, all visitors will be entertained with genuine Kentucky hospitality."

The Star also gives a sketch of one of the most prominent Knights of this city. It says: "Very Eminent Sir Warren LaRue Thomas, of Maysville, the Grand Captain General of the Grand Encampment, U. S. A., was born in Elizabethtown, Ky., on January 25, 1845. His father afterward moved to Danville, Ky., and the son was educated at Centre College. In 1867 he received the lodge and chapter degrees and at once began to take great interest in the order. In 1872, there being no Commandery at Danville, he received the Templar orders in De Molay Commandery No. 12, of Louisville, and shortly thereafter assisted in the organization of Ryan Commandery No. 17, at Danville, of which he is at present a life member. He first attended the meeting of the Grand Commandery of his State in 1873, and at the meeting in 1874 was elected Grand Senior Warden. He was regularly promoted, and in 1878 was elected Grand Commander. He has also filled all the chairs in his Grand Lodge and Grand Chapter, and in 1881 was both Grand Master of the Grand Lodge and Grand High Priest of the Grand Chapter. In the meantime he was chosen Grand Master of the Grand Council of Royal and Select Masters. Sir Knight Thomas first attended the grand encampment at New Orleans in 1874, and in 1880, at the meeting in Chicago, he was elected Grand Junior Warden. In 1883, at San Francisco, he was promoted to Grand Senior Warden, and in 1886, at St. Louis, to Grand Captain General, which position he now fills."

Green Acquitted.

Thomas A. Green, charged with being an accessory in the Newport News and Mississippi Valley Railroad diamond robbery, was acquitted at Lexington yesterday. The case was mentioned by the BULLETIN a few weeks ago. Green is a son of ex-Conductor Henry Green, and his friends here will be glad to learn of his acquittal.

Hettie Bernard Chase.

She will appear at the opera house next Tuesday night for the first time in Maysville. "Little Coquette" is the title of the comedy that will be rendered. The Louisville Courier-Journal says: "It is a purely American play, and one of the finest order; not an every-day story, told in an off-handed manner, but a finely woven plot built together and worked out with great care. The story is new, and the interest never falls from the first to the last. The comedy keeps the audience in a continual roar, while the pathetic scenes bring tears to many eyes."

Behind the Bars Again.

Watt Mulligan, who is wanted in Robertson County to answer a serious charge, was brought here yesterday from Lexington by Policeman J. J. Reagan and turned over to Jailer Fitzgerald.

The accused is wanted at Mt. Olivet on the charge of house-breaking with intent to commit a rape. He was landed behind the bars here last fall for safe-keeping, but on the evening of December 8th, escaped, at the time the diamond thieves, Ross and Young, made their successful break for liberty. Since then Mulligan says he has spent most of his time in Illinois. About six weeks ago he returned to Kentucky and was making his home with his brother Lon Mulligan on the farm of John Rolls, seven miles from Lexington. Policeman Reagan and Constable Arnspeiger, of that city, got a "tip" from some one and captured Mulligan one day last week. They will get a reward of $100 offered by the Governor.

Mulligan is in jail, subject to the orders of the Robertson County authorities.

New York Will at Once Raise That Amount

TO SECURE THE WORLD'S FAIR.

Second Meeting of the Finance Committee Receive the Report of the Executive Committee—Three Ways of Raising the Necessary Funds for the Success of the Exposition.

New York, Oct. 9.—The second meeting of the finance committee of the world's fair was held yesterday in the chamber of commerce. There were present Samuel D. Babcock, chairman of the committee; August Belmont, Morris K. Jessup, Eugene Kelly, Jesse Seligman, Elliott F. Shepard, Calvin S. Brice, Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., Pierrepont Morgan, Joseph J. O'Donohue, Herman Oelrichs, William Steinway and J. Edward Simmons, treasurer. The meeting was private.

The announcement was made that the chairman of the finance committee and the members of the executive committee were willing that the press should have a copy of the report of the executive committee with any amendments the finance committee may make to it.

The executive committee of the world's fair, reported to the finance committee that after a careful examination of the whole subject the committee was of the opinion that no complete financial scheme could be determined upon until it was approximately known what was the aggregate amount of money proposed to be raised. There were three sources from which the necessary funds for the exposition could be derived when the sum required was ascertained, viz.: First, government and city aid; second, sale of bonds or other evidences of pecuniary interest in the enterprise; third, a preliminary fund with which to secure the inauguration of the work and to provide against the possibility of ultimate loss and which would be represented by stock. The amount to be obtained through the last two channels would of course depend upon the financial aid and other assistance to be derived from the general government.

The step of importance in the opinion of the committee, is that congress give the exhibition a national aid internal character by appropriate legal enactment which should at the same time determine its location in this, the principal port of entry and metro. of the country. No plans so far submitted to the committee are adequate to every purpose, unless the lands are provided free by the city. When the points mentioned are definitely settled, the committee say that it will be a comparatively easy matter to formulate a plan for obtaining popular subscriptions.

In conclusion the committee recommends the raising of $5,000,000 as a preliminary fund for which stock shall be issued when authorized by congressional or legislative enactment and that subscription books be at once placed before the public, the funds to be at the disposal of the finance committee as soon as congress decides that the exhibition shall be held in New York.

Sentenced the Second Time.

COLUMBUS, Oct. 9.—Yesterday Allen O. Myers, of the Cincinnati Enquirer, was sentenced by Judge David F. Pugh, of the common pleas court, to fifteen days in jail and a fine of $250, for contempt of court. The contempt was in Mr. Myers publishing in the Enquirer a year ago last spring a caustic article on Judge Pugh during the trial of Montgomery, one of the Franklin county persons indicted for the tally sheet election forgeries, of whom Mr. Myers was one. Myers was subsequently tried before Judge Pugh on a charge of venue to Madison county and there acquitted by a jury. Judge Pugh once before sentenced Myers for this contempt to jail for ninety days and a fine of $250, but the supreme court on some error in the proceedings remanded the case back for a new hearing.

Two Seals to Land.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 9.—The story published in Boston about the disappearance in that city of August Gunther, of Baltimore, is spoiled to some extent by the gentleman turning up in this city. Mr. Gunther explains the affair by saying that he was very seasick on the voyage, and was so ill when they reached Boston that he kept to his room, and did not land at all. Mr. Gunther returned to Baltimore on the same steamer, the Dorchester.

Election in Indianapolis.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 9.—The municipal election yesterday passed off quietly. But little interest was manifested and the vote was light. The returns received at this hour indicate the election of Sullivan, Democrat, for mayor, by from 600 to 700 majority. The council stands: Republicans 11, Democrats 14, a Democratic gain of three, and the board of aldermen a tie at five each, a Democratic gain of one.

Suing for Insurance Money.

BOSTON, Oct. 9.—Twenty-seven suits brought by Washington Mills against that number of insurance companies for losses by the fire at the mills in Lawrence, May 17, 1887, were settled yesterday by the payment of $70,000. Payment has been resisted on the ground that changes had been made on the machinery and that the water was cut off the premises when the fire occurred.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 9.—Congressman Whitthorne, of the Seventh district, is dangerously ill at his home in Columbia. But little hope of his recovery is entertained. He has been in bad health for a long time.

An Ohio Man Dies in Minnesota.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 9.—J. J. Goller, a commercial traveler of Bryan, O., was found dead in his bed at the Hotel Ryan here this morning. Heart disease is supposed to have been the cause.

Grainies Damaged By a Fire.

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 9.—Fire last night in the wholesale grocery establishment of William Edwards & Company, on Water street, which started on the fourth floor, destroyed the upper part of the building, and the flood of water poured into the building destroyed to a great degree the stock on all the floors. The estimated loss, $125,000, is covered by insurance.

All a Mystery.

DUNKIRK, N. Y., Oct. 9.—The body of Timothy Kreider, an Erie fisherman, who disappeared from this place last Saturday, and whose whereabouts were unknown, was grappled yesterday afternoon by a member of the Erie fishing club while trying to recover a fire shovel, lost overboard from their boat. How the accident occurred is a mystery as no boat has been found.

Chicago Elopers separate.

CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—Mrs. Mike McDonald is returning from France without her paramour, "Father" Moysant, who deserted her shortly after their arrival in Europe. By virtue of two distress warrants issued by Jacob Miller, a Justice of the Peace for Mason County, State of Kentucky, in favor of E. W. Kaib Lodge No. 12 and Rinsold Lodge No. 27, Independent Order of Oddfellows of Mayville, Ky., one for Three Hundred and Two Dollars and Fifty Cents, due July 1st, 1889, with interest from that date, and one for a like sum due October 1st, 1889, with interest from that date, and costs, against Chas. D. Shepard, levied by me as Sheriff of Mason County, Ky., on the personal property of said Shepard in the anteroom Hotel in Mayville, Kentucky, I will sell at public auction, at said hotel, in said city, on Friday, October 11,

1889, commencing at 9 o'clock and continuing until said property is all sold, or enough thereof to satisfy said distress warrants and costs, which property consists of Beds and Bedding, Chairs and Tables, Table Linens, Towels, Mosquito Bars, Desks, Counters, two Show Cases, one Iron Safe, Two Ranges, three large Cannon Stoves, two Refrigerators, one Gasoline Stove, Carpets, Dishes and Silver-plated Ware, Knives and Forks, Water Motor for running fans in Dining Room, Annuletator, Flat Irons, Mirrors, Bureaus, Wash-stands, Wash-bowls and Pitchers, small Heating Stoves, Napkins, Laundry Stove and Fixtures, one large Refrigerator and one small Kitchen Clock, and all other personal property in said Hotel levied upon under said distress warrants.

The sale will be on the premises, on a credit of three months, the purchaser to give bond with good security, with interest from day of sale.
